

Ethernet Time Related Charges

Ethernet Time Related Charges (TRC) are raised to recover the cost incurred when our engineers repair faults, provide or rearrange services, where this work is not covered under the terms of the Openreach service.

Charging mechanism that enables our engineers to take appropriate action to complete a job or repair a fault without generating unnecessary delay for your customer.

When do TRCs apply?

TRCs apply where you request work to be carried out involving the provision or rearrangement of equipment, network or services, where:

- No standard prices exist for the work e.g. line plant re-arrangement
- The work needs to be carried out outside our normal working hours
- A repair carried out at your customer's site is either not covered by the terms of our Service contract or where the fault is not with our service or equipment.

Service benefits

Right First Time – Enables our engineers to spend additional time completing their tasks, where work is not covered under the terms of Openreach service.

Greater Flexibility – Enables provision or rearrangement of where standard Openreach pricing is not available.

Greater Financial Control – By approving the TRCs upfront you are in control of any additional charges that may occur while we are providing your services
